

Apple Variety	Season	Pollination Group	Self fertile	Pick	Store	Sweetness	Use	Disease resistant	Tree size	Other notes	Hardiness	Origin: Date and place
Kirton Fair	Early	1		July/August	no	sweet and juicy	eat from the tree					Crediton , Devon old/traditional
George Cave	Early	2		early/mid August	no	sweet, crisp and sharp and juicy	eat from the tree or for juicing	Average			flowers are frost resistant	1923 Essex
Worcester Pearmain	Early	3	Partly	Mid September	1 week	sweeter	eat from the tree or for juicing	Average		Upright moderately vigorous tree. Attractive pink blossom	flowers are frost resistant	1873
Laxtons Epicure	Early	3		August	1 week	Crisp, crunchy, aromatic and refreshing	eat from the tree	good	compact	abundant cropper		Victorian
Fortune	Early	3		September	Until October	aromatic	eating and cooking pies		compact	Good for exposed sites Good for children	flowers are frost resistant	1931
Oaken Pin	Mid	3		late September	1 month	Juicy, sweet and aromatic	dessert apple	good		high quality distinctive apple		Exmoor old/traditional
Peasgood Nonsuch	Mid	3		September	until December	aromatic, very juicy, sweet and sharp	Dual purpose - eat and cook (puree)			The apples themselves are very large and the tree in blossom is highly decorative.		1850 Lincolnshire
Charles Ross	Mid	2		September		sweet and juicy	multi purpose: eating, juicing, cider and cooking.	Apple scab resistant	moderately vigorous upright	Sweet and juicy when eaten, good as a blending variety in cider and when cooked stays firm, perfect for pies and tarts.		1890 Berkshire good for chalky soils
Pitmaston Pineapple	Mid	3	no	September	until November	sweet/sharp with pineapple flavour	eating and makes tasty juice	average very resistant to scab	compact - good for small space	Heavy cropper. Pruning stops biennial bear. Small apples: popular with children		eighteenth century
Sweet Coppin	Mid	3	no	October	2-3 months	sweet	juice and sweet cider and dessert apple	susceptible to scab and powdery mildew		dual purpose apple		early 1700s Devon
Winter Gem	Late	3		November	until March	Firm, crisp, aromatic and tasty, with a good balance of sugar and acidity.	eating	Good		Parent: Cox - tasty		1977
Winston	Late	4	partly	November	until March	Rich and aromatic More sharp than 'Cox' Mellows and sweetens with storage	eating	Good	Remains quite compact and upright in size and shape, good when space is limited.	Good cropper. Attractive red fruits hang on the tree after the leaves have fallen, looks very ornamental		introduced in 1935 and renamed to honour Sir Winston Churchill after the second world war
Suntan	Late	4		November	1-2 months	wonderful aromatic flavour of tropical fruits	eating	Good	vigorous likes full sun	Heavy cropper. Yellow/orange fruits		1955